

MUSEUM MEETS

Wednesday 29 February

Leap Day talks

10.00am: Adam Bland - The Reproduction of Central American Leaf Frogs and their captive breeding as an important conservation tool.

10.45am: Matthew Wilson - The Ecology and Habits of the European midwife toads (genus Alytes), including their recent introduction to the British Isles.

2.30pm: Robert Jehle - Revealing the mating system of a poison-arrow frog: insights from DNA fingerprinting techniques and conservation implications.

3.15pm: Andrew Gray: Investigating the structural, optical, and chemical properties of neotropical amphibian skin for conservation purposes.

Part of Amphibian Ark's Leaping Ahead of Extinction: A celebration of good news for amphibians in 2012, to coincide with Leap Day (29 February 2012).

Price: Book on 0161 275 2648, free, adults, Conference Room, Floor 2

THE MANCHESTER MUSEUM'S
ADULT PROGRAMME

MUSEUMMEETS.WORDPRESS.COM

